DeLoache,

How can I tell you what your friendship
has meant to me during these past two years?
From the very first night of college I've held
you as one of my dearest friends.
You have a wonderful personality! I think [illegible]

Dear Marianne,

Sure hate this being the end. You know I have really had lots of fun with you this year. Keeping ~~[illegible]~~ quarter. Hope you have lots of fun in Nassau this summer. I'll probably see you during that time. You're a fine person with a great personality and really enjoyable. Kind of hate to say goodbye to a nice girl. So [illegible] it.

Love,
Don "11" Booth

Dear Marianne,

It is a little hard for me to say yet, what I want D. Marianne you. I feel I have expected you and I do hope we shall be here when this gets to you. I am [illegible] and I am [illegible] I am [illegible] I am [illegible]

Ole' Maryanne,

Here's to the times we have had our way,
To the time a come this I say.
Remember the laughts, the smiles, the car,
(I'll remember you and your figure by far.)
The times of embarrassement in that old gym,
To the serious times in the dark with him. (who?)
To your smile, and neatness, and skirts that flap, with me an the loose with my old Z.A.P.
So remember if you're down, out, and blue,
things could get worse, ... and they usely do.
So remember us all especially me, with all your heart my temptations three,
Wine, whiskey and thee.

As always Love. Jack Smith

ALMA MATER

Down among the murmuring pine trees
Where old nature smiles.
GTC holds up a standard
Known for miles and miles.

Lift the chorus. Speed it onward.
Ne'er her standard fail.
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater.
GTC. All Hail.

From the blue and broad Atlantic,
Balmy breezes blow,
Wafting far GTC's Spirit
May she ever grow.

Foreword

The end of another school year is upon us. For many of you who thumb through the following pages, this is the last of the golden years you spent at Georgia Teachers College. For others, this year, 1959, is just the beginning, or a continuation, of those happy, magical college years. Each college year, whether it be the first or the last, is a thrilling chapter of one's life. And each event in that chapter is a priceless treasure. With this thought in mind, we, the REFLECTOR staff, began piecing this book together. We have earnestly attempted to capture this year from the swift feet of time and to bind it between the covers of this book where time will stand still as you glance through these pages of your life in years to come.

Dedication

Because she has so nobly dedicated herself to us and to our needs, working quite inconspicuously seasoning our lives with her own personality and the granite values typical of the truly great teacher and leader, we dedicate the 1959 REFLECTOR to Miss Bertha Freeman.

This year you heard the sounds of hammers, saws, cement mixers, cranes, and bulldozers echoing out across the usually quiet and peaceful campus of Georgia Teachers College. Those sounds signaled construction that is well underway with a new Dining Hall-Student Center and a combination classroom and science building.

An Artist's Conception of the Dining Hall-Student Center.

The Dining Hall-Student Center will house a book store, snack bar, lounge, post office, offices for student organizations, and the dining hall. It will be named the "Frank I. Williams Building" after the father of First District Regent F. Everett Williams.

Dining Hall-Student Center under construction at the beginning of the school year.

Classroom and science building under construction at the beginning of the school year.

An Artist's Conception of the classroom and science building.

The quality of mercy is not strained;
It droppeth, as the gentle rain from heaven
Upon the place beneath; it is twice bless'd —
It blesseth him that gives, and him that takes.

OUR PRESIDENT SPEAKS

GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE
COLLEGEBORO, GEORGIA
SUBURB OF STATESBORO

OFFICE OF
THE PRESIDENT

To the Students of GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE:

It is always a pleasure to have an opportunity to say a few words to the student body through the REFLECTOR. It is a thrill to see the new editor and his staff plan and dream of the annual that they are responsible for publishing. Each staff is interested in making the annual a little bit better than the one that was published the year before. It is the policy of the college administration to do whatever we can to help the students as they work in any student-college activity.

College life is a high spot in the life of an individual. There are many times in the life of a person after he leaves college when he relives the outstanding experiences which happened to him as a college student. It is my hope that the 1959 REFLECTOR will serve as a reminder of your happy experiences on the G. T. C. campus.

Sincerely yours,

Zach S. Henderson

The Masquers Organization has as its purpose the promotion of dramatic activities on campus in such a way that students will look on dramatics as an art; that those participating in that art will grow in their understanding of its principles and in developing its techniques; and will acquire the sense of achievement that such growth promotes. Masquers further provides opportunity for students to develop responsibility by successfully assuming responsibility for properties, programs, ads, lights, sound effects, costumes, construction, painting, publicity, ticket sales, attendance at rehearsal, and creating harmonious relationships backstage and on-stage.

Masquers strives to provide students with a home group, one to which they securely belong and which they find the mutual respect given to those and by those who have worked hard together. Above all, Masquers endeavors to provide theatrical entertainment of superior quality.

By this time of the year, all the faces appearing on this page should be familiar to you. From them, you have probably heard such questions as: "Did you have your picture made yet? have your proofs been turned in? do you spell your name with an 'Mc' or an 'Mac'?" Yes, it was a headache for you and for us, too, but we finally got it all wrapped up in one book, and these are the people who did it for you.

REFLECTOR STAFF

Sue Tolbert and Albert Burke
Sports Editors

Through hours of toil and labor by the people pictured on these two pages, this annual is possible. We, the REFLECTOR staff of 1959, are proud of this yearbook and hope that you are, too.

This is your annual and without your cooperation, this book could never have been published. You had to show an interest in the REFLECTOR, because your snapshots and individual and group pictures show this.

We would like to say thanks for your cooperation and endurance.

The pages of this book are designed to reflect the campus life of Georgia Teachers College for 1959. We feel that we have accomplished the spirit of GTC, and hope that you, too, will look back on this annual and remember the "good ole days" at GTC.

This year's cover for the REFLECTOR, shown sketched in on the blackboard, was designed and drawn up by our art staff. Here they are pictured figuring balance, proportion, and layout.

Heigh-ho! sing heigh-ho unto
the green holly;
Most friendship is feigning, most
loving mere folly:
Then, heigh-ho the holly!
This life is most jolly!

The 1959 Homecoming was one of the most colorful ever staged at Georgia Teachers College. Above is the Queen of Homecoming, Miss Sibbie Hogan, being crowned by Miss Sis Heys. Below is the winning float in the Homecoming parade. The float was "Action in Allegory," sponsored by the English Club. The other picture depicts G.T.C. "going modern" with the Science Club.

Lines make up the world, and here is a good example to remind you of the many, many lines you formed here at Georgia Teachers College.

These lines, however, led to a habit you would hate to have broken.

Ma Evans and Ma Johnson give the girls a demonstration on the proper stance for the hula hoop. Remember that craze?

The Masquers are caught in a dress rehearsal for "My Three Angels," presented fall quarter. The play was said to have been one of the best ever presented at G.T.C. by Masquers.

The "Ugly Man's Contest" is an annual affair at Georgia Teachers College. It is sponsored by the Vet's Club, which enters several contestants to solicit votes from the student hody. Each vote costs the voter a penny, and the proceeds are used for Vet's Club activities.

It's good to be king of something!

We could have danced all night.

The sophomores decided to pack all the house mamas in a little 'ole car and let them head the Rat Day parade.

Rat Day! Rat Day! Rat Day! "When's it coming off?" "What will they make us do?" And then it came in the still of the night. "What's your name, rat?" "What herd number are you in?"

Rats in a contest during Rat Court.

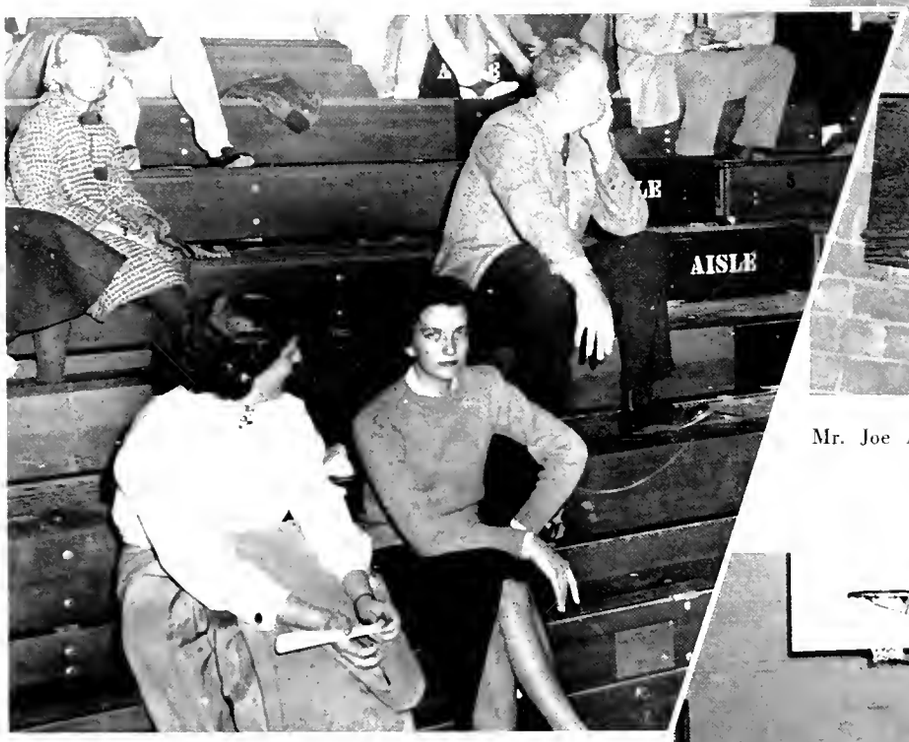
It behooves each rat to take a bath in mud—at least once.

A rat is a rat is a rat, and the sophomores didn't let them forget it for one minute that day when they had complete control of all the rats. Peeled to the skin, and bathed in mud, the rats soon realized their lowly status—but they had one consolation: "Wait 'til next year!"

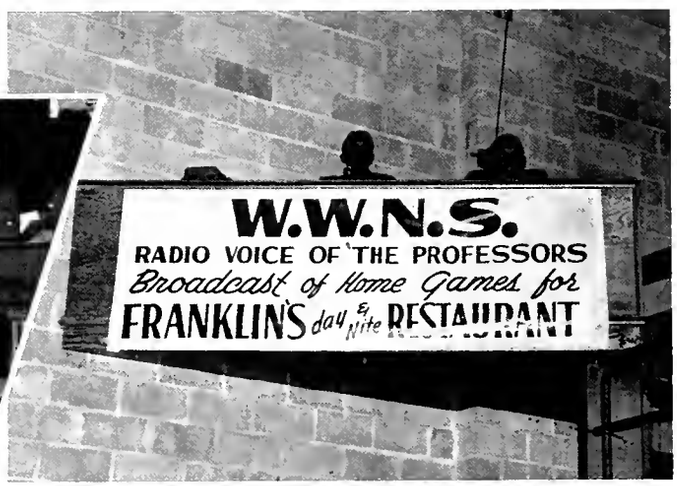
The rats demonstrate their agility in sports against the sophomores.

Students and faculty observe intently as the Professors trounce an opponent.

The Color Guard leads the parade during the Rat Day festivities.



Even a President is entitled to relax and let his hair down occasionally.



Mr. Joe Axelson broadcasts one of the Professor's home games.

One of the highlights of the year was the wrestling match held during the Halloween Carnival sponsored by the "T" Club.

The girls work industriously as they get ready for the big outing.

Hark, What Is It?

It's a great life if you don't weaken, and who wants to be strong? We've had time to work (obnoxious as it may seem); time to rest, and time to play. On these pages, you see us working a little, but mostly playing. And if we seem like children here in our playful moods, then that's exactly what we intended to do. You see, we're trying to disprove the old adage that youth is wasted on the young.

Marianne,

Just a few words to say thanks for all the wonderful times that we had together. Remember that crazy birthday card you sent me at the 1st of the year. Remember how scared you were when you tried out for cheerleader and how happy I was when you won. And do you remember the day we went to your farm and picked up pecans! But Marianne I'll never forget the time we got "caught" at the motel with you! I'll never forget the nice time we had at your "party," not to mention your wonderful family.

Most of all I'll never forget how easy it was to talk to you. I was worried about some things. Marianne Dr Seuss, I'll never forget you and will always love you just a little till I die.

Your friend always,

Bobby Wilson

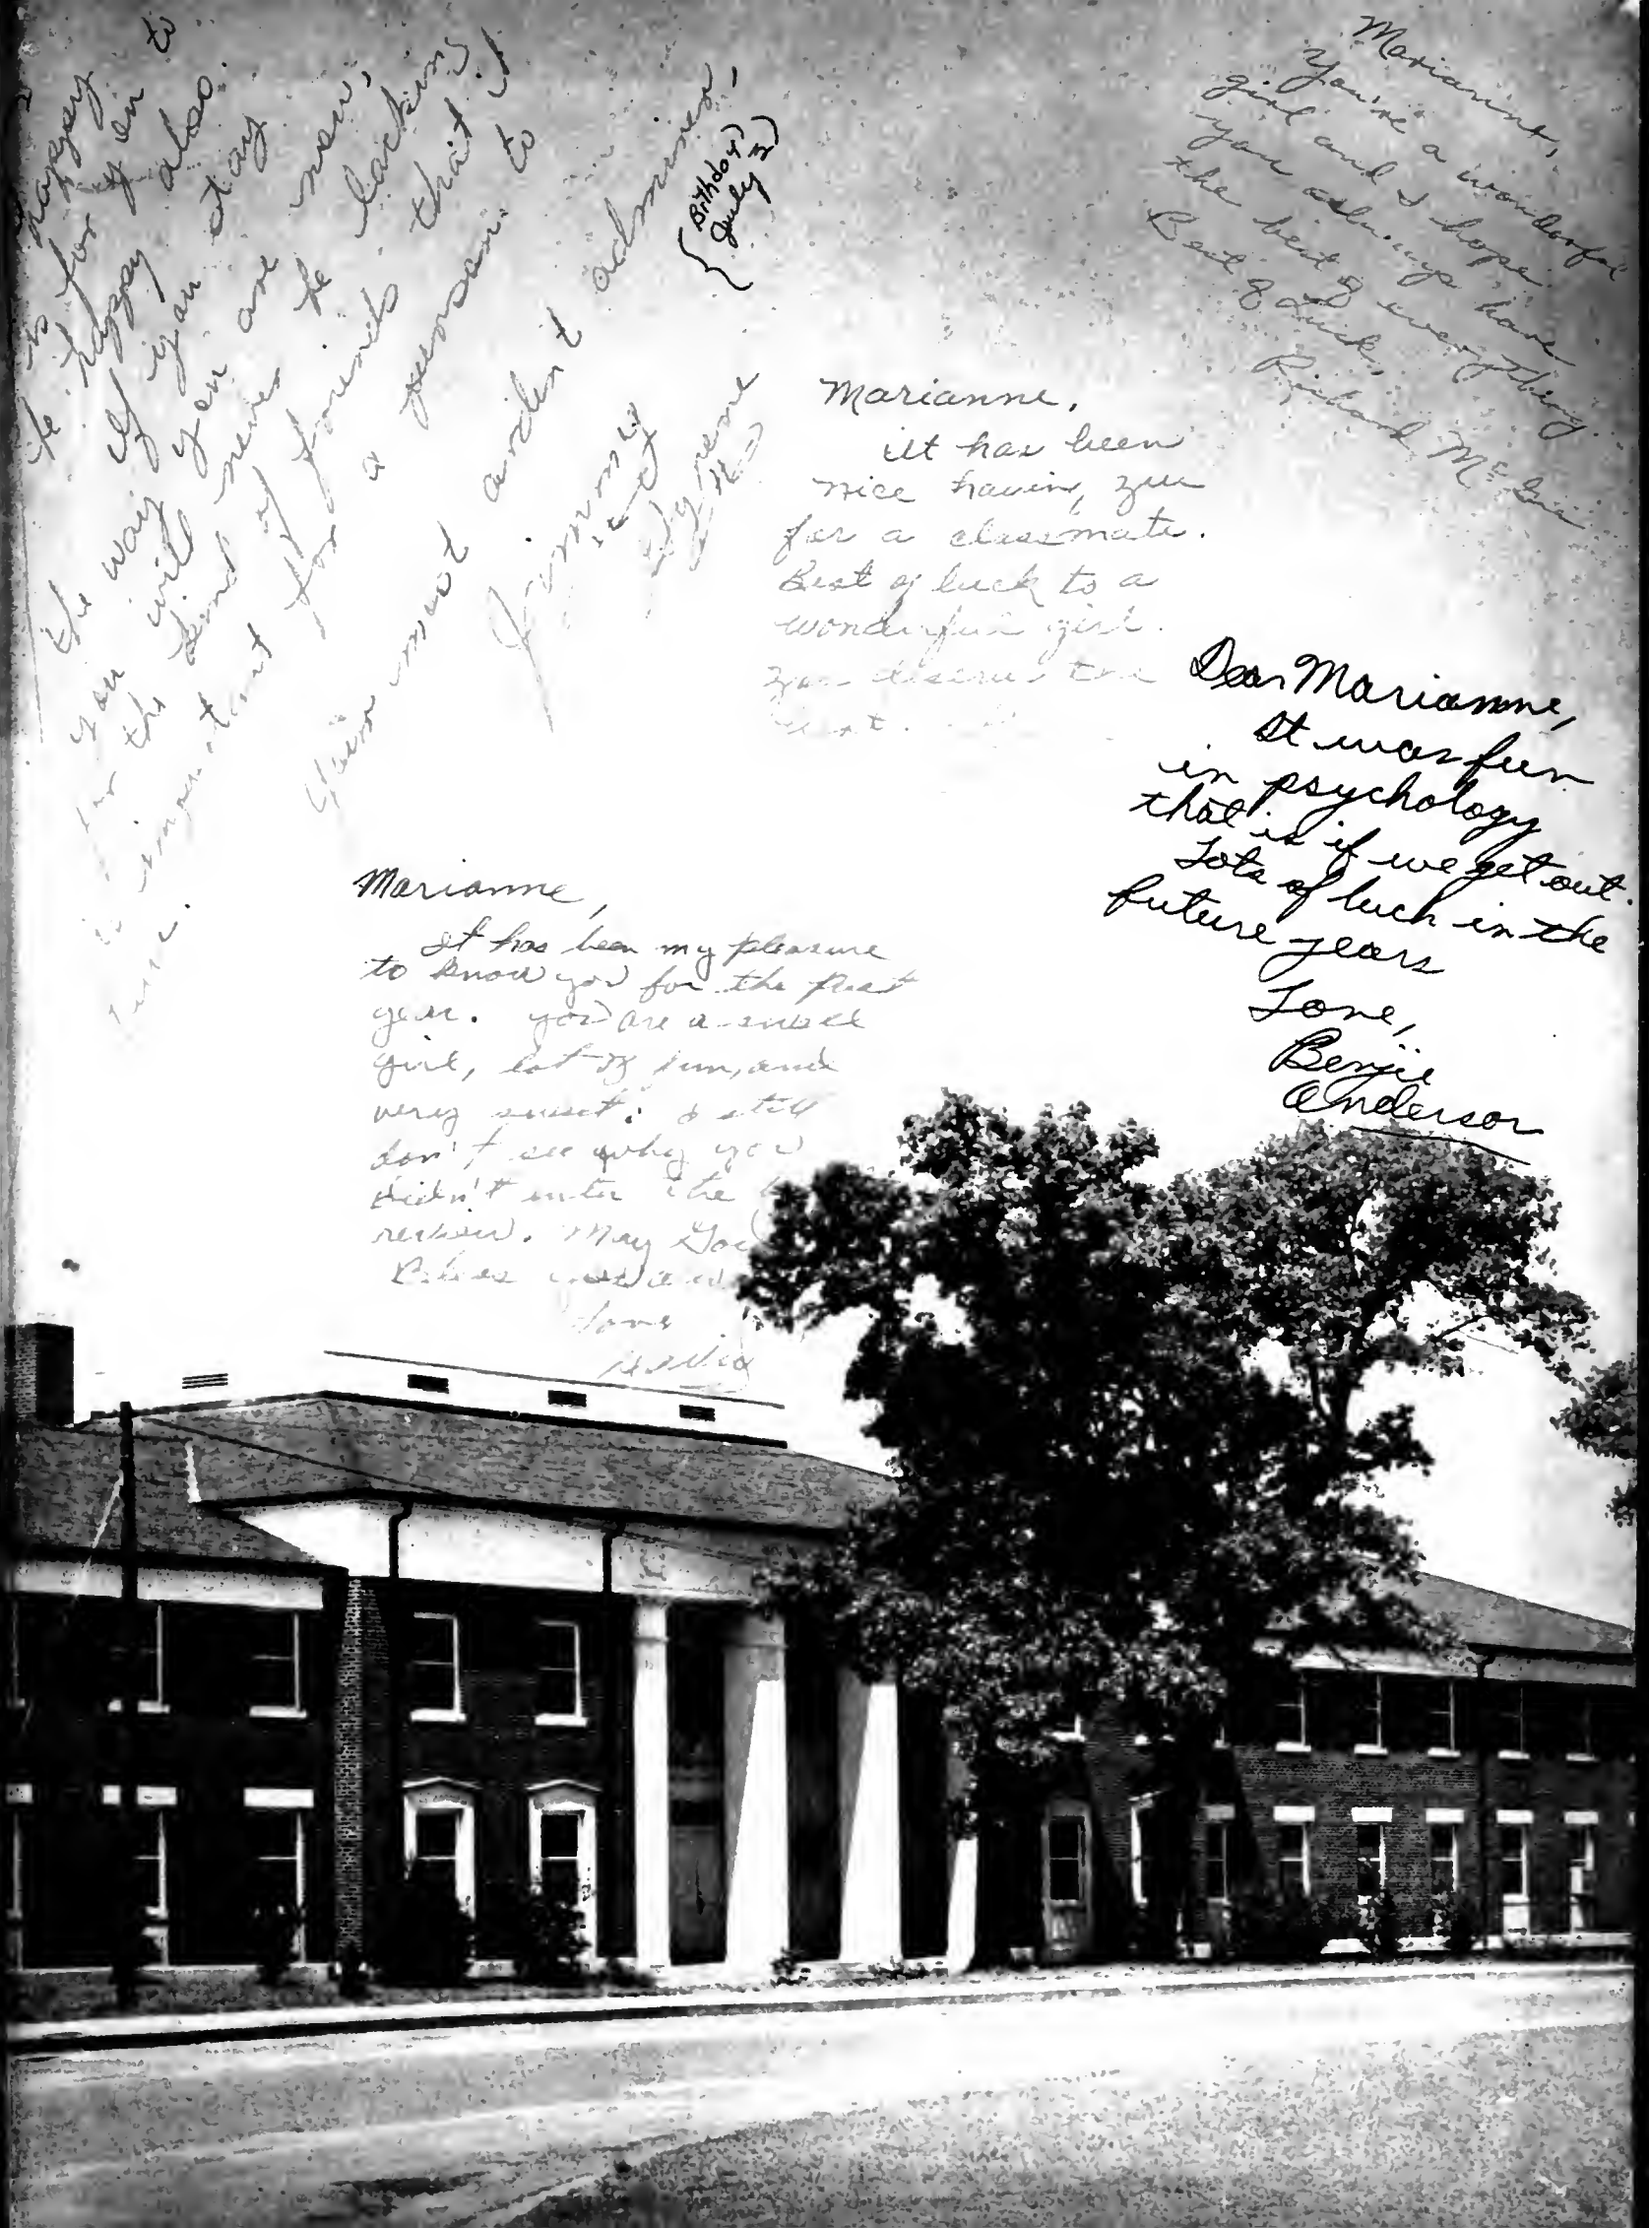
Marianne,

I don't ever know what to write in anyone's annual but I will make a feeble attempt. Even though I've only known you a few short weeks, I want you to know that I consider you one of the happiest people I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. Your ever present smile and sunny disposition have always been a source of inspiration to me. I only wish that I could be as happy as you seem to be all the time. You have the most carefree attitude of anyone I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. You are one of the finest people I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. You are one of the most wonderful people I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. You are one of the most wonderful people I've ever had the pleasure of meeting.



Marianne,
You're a wonderful girl and I hope you always have the best of everything. Best of luck, Richard McGee

Marianne,
It has been nice having you for a classmate. Best of luck to a wonderful girl. You deserve the best.

Dear Marianne,
It was fun in psychology that is if we get out. Lots of luck in the future years
Love,

Marianne,
It has been my pleasure to know you for the past year. You are a sweet girl, but shy sometimes, and very quiet. I still don't see why you didn't enter the beauty review. May God bless you and
Love
